

SPANISH IMMERSION TEACHER WORKSHOP Teaching Spanish with Visual and Digital Media

Rocío Quispe-Agnoli
Saturday, May 11, 2013
10:00 a.m. – 4:00 p.m.
Wells Hall, MSU
SB-CEU

This interactive workshop is designed for K-16 teachers of Spanish and offers an immersion setting that allows participants to explore various engaging ways of teaching Spanish cultures by means of digital media and visual exercises. Together we will discuss Hispanic cultural topics that may be used for exercises in both, the actual and virtual classroom, how to design them and teach them. Participants will also receive a crash-course on resources to efficiently use digital technology in the Spanish classroom. The workshop also provides an avenue for networking with other Spanish teachers across different levels and share ideas and materials. Register online at <http://celta.msu.edu/clschool>. Registration fee is $35 and includes materials, snacks, and an authentic lunch from Pablo's Panadería. For an additional $35, 0.5 SB-CEUs can be obtained.

Goals:

- Discover how to organize and implement Spanish classes that
  - Enhance the comprehension of Hispanic texts by means of visual media,
  - Use Hispanic television to learn language and culture in a daily context,
  - Develop awareness about stereotypes about the Spanish-speaking world,
- Present practical ways to introduce technology inside (and outside!) the classroom
- Provide a networking opportunity for teachers

Learning Outcomes:

- Participants will review old and current ideas about the Spanish-speaking world.
- Participants will be encouraged to think about ways to find digital resources for their class.
- Participants will create and share materials that will be classroom-ready.

Organized by the Community Language School and
Center for Language Teaching Advancement at Michigan State University
<http://cls.celta.msu.edu>